A bright flame has been extinguished, a wonderful person is no longer in our midst. She will, however, forever be in our hearts. Irene Anderson was a lady who exuded a quiet radiance of both inner and outer beauty. To her family, I am sure that saying goodbye to one so deeply loved is not easy. Your feelings of emptiness and loss may often be overwhelming. Memories of the joy that she brought to your lives will help fill part of the void left by your loss and your faith in God will fill the rest. For when you measure the true worth of a person, you measure it by how much the person was loved. Irene Anderson was loved a thousand fold! May God grant you comfort in this knowledge.
