My Dad was the most amazing Dad. His children besides my stepmom he would absolutely do anything for. Well I should say his sister also and whole family and friends. I was first born so many fond memories. He taught me many things about animals, cultures, also how a man should treat a woman. A man of his word! He was a monster and always wanted to make everyone smile and it's right he would light up. He had a lot of aches and pains and still he would not let on how bad. He did not want others to worry. God bless him and he loved the Lord. I know he is at peace and not in pain. Till we meet again my Daddy! Rest in Peace.

My Uncle Eddie was such a kind and loving person who lit up when he made someone laugh. When I was a little girl, maybe 8 or so, he teased me for days before my birthday that all he could afford to give me was a Q-Tip. I knew he was teasing and I loved it. Well, on my birthday, inside the card he gave me, was a Q-Tip!! He chuckled pretty good because it made me laugh. I have no idea what my actual gift was because for me the gift truly was the Q-Tip and all the loving teasing and giggles that came from it. My Uncle always made me feel loved and I will always miss him. RIP Uncle Eddie. I love you

My brother was 7 years older than me, so we argued and fought like most brothers and sisters. I was the one with the most temper, and he would just laugh at me which made me madder! As we grew up, he was like a teacher to me. Telling me about snakes, and birds and all sorts of ways to help even heal little animals that had some misfortune. He was the smartest person I have ever known. My first friend, my teacher, my protector, and a great prankster! In the last years we enjoyed sharing our memories of our life. I will always miss him and his hand drawn crazy cards he made for me. He was always loved and always will be. Eddie rest in peace
