Scotty was a great classmate, colleague, and physician. I'll never forget the good times I spent with him over our careers.

Scotty was a great loyal friend and had a great sense of humor. He always called himself a pathologic introvert but was often the funniest guy when he was hanging with his rugby, Navy or medical buddies. He was a great doctor who spent time talking with his patients. He loved an adventure whether it was scuba diving and doing airborne in med school or joining us in orthopedic/sports med venture in China. A unique and wonderful guy. Love ya man and miss you a ton
